

TOURISM and the transformation of

LARGE CITIES in the POST-COMMUNIST countries of Central and Eastern EUROPE

Waldemar Cudny

Tomasz Michalski

Rafał Roubal

Spis treści

1. Introduction (Cudny W.)	9
1.1. The object, subject and scope of the book. The aims and methods of study	9
1.2. Basic terminology	12
1.3. The post-socialist city – the theoretical approach	17
2. The history of the political and economic transformation in the countries of Central and Eastern Europe (Wiśniewski E.)	20
2.1. The beginnings of the transformation	20
2.2. The political transformation in the countries of Central and Eastern Europe.....	21
2.3. The course of economic transformations	23
2.4. Conclusions	33
3. Lodz – Poland (Cudny W., Rouba R.)	34
3.1. Location and accessibility	34
3.2. History and the contemporary times	37
3.3. The transformation of Lodz during the post-socialist period. Tourism in Lodz	43
3.4. The transformation of the tourist infrastructure	45
3.5. Spatial changes	52
3.6. Political and administrative changes	55
3.7. Transformations in Lodz culture	59
3.8. European Union funds and tourism development	64
3.9. Changes in the tourist traffic. Conclusions	65
4. Bratislava – Slovakia (Korec P., Bucekova I.)	69
4.1. The location of the city	69
4.2. Transport accessibility	71
4.3. The history of the city	75
4.4. Post – socialist urban transformation	77
4.5. Changes influencing the development of tourism after 1989.....	80
4.6. Changes in the urban spatial structure	89
4.7. Institutional changes in tourism. European Union funds	92
4.8. The number and structure of Bratislava visitors	93
4.9. Changes in the structure of visitors	96
4.10. The expected future tendencies in tourism development. Conclusions	99

5. Kaliningrad – Russia (Kropinova E.)	103
5.1. The location, accessibility and role of Kaliningrad in the network of Russian cities	103
5.2. The history and latest changes in the economic and functional systems	105
5.3. Stages in the development of the area as a tourism region	107
5.4. The image of the Kaliningrad region and changes in the tourist traffic	108
5.5. Tourist sector in change	110
5.6. Prospects for development	111
5.7. Conclusions	113
6. Lviv – Ukraine (Stetsiuk O., Michalski T.)	115
6.1. General information about Lviv	115
6.2. The history, post - communist socio-economic transformation and main tourist assets	116
6.3. Functional transformations and the development of tourism ...	119
6.4. Spatial transformations affecting tourism	122
6.5. Administrative and political transformation	124
6.6. European Union funds and tourism development programs	125
6.7. The main effects of the transformation	126
7. Minsk – Belarus (Antipova E.A., Fakeyeva L.V., Fedortsova T.A.)	129
7.1. The description of the study area	129
7.2. The history of Minsk	130
7.3. Location and transport	131
7.4. Population and economy	133
7.5. Tourist assets and infrastructure	137
7.6. Tourist flows	148
7.7. Development plans	150
7.8. Conclusions	153
8. Conclusions (Rouba R., Cudny W.)	155
Streszczenie	163
Zhrnutie	166
Bibliografia	169